WHAT IS THE MASTER OF THEOLOGICAL STUDIES?

The Master of Theological Studies (MTS) program is designed for students who are hungry for a deeper biblical and theological understanding. While the MDiv and MPT programs prepare students for a variety of vocational ministry roles, the Master of Theological Studies program is entirely devoted to biblical studies. Whether you have years of ministry experience as a pastor or church leader and believe deeper theological study would enhance your ministry, or you find yourself on a journey towards PhD work, then the Master of Theological Studies degree is designed for you.

Careers with a MTS Degree

- Pastoral Ministries
- Educator or Instructor
- Religious Writer/Author

Degree Paths

- PhD or ThD
- Doctor of Ministry

Accredited through the Association of Theological Schools (ATS).

MASTER'S THESIS

This is the culmination of the MTS degree. Students will research a biblical and/or theological topic on which they will write a master's thesis. The thesis-writing process will hone students' methodology skills and is excellent preparation for doctoral studies

"I picked the Master of Theological Studies program so I could write a thesis and prepare for a PhD program, and I was not disappointed. In the process, I learned that a thesis is a gift that keeps on giving, as I kept working on improving it even after I graduated! I am confident that when the time comes for me to write a doctoral dissertation in the future, I'll be prepared."
